

Anticipated forage condition/availability in most parts of Tanzania, East Africa and Horn of Africa in Next 60 days to come up to 2nd of May 2009.

Forage situation is showing extensive degradation in most of the pastoral areas, and unless the much expected March-April rains come on time and sufficient levels, drought is imminent.

The LEWS forecast indicates general forage deterioration in Tanzania, Uganda, Kenya and southern Ethiopia.

Livestock prices in Kenya, Ethiopia and Tanzania is showing decrease across all markets due to the prevailing forage scarcity and poor terms of trade..

Disclaimer:

This information is provided for decision support, but should not be the sole source of information for livestock and land use decisions making.